Teachers’ Knowledge & Attitude towards community oriented Medical Education and its objectives (Kermanshah 2002)

Siabani S, Mansoury F, Iranfar S, Nasseripour T, Rezaei M, Jalilian N

Introduction. The community oriented Medical Education (COME) is known as an efficient Method. Kermanshah University of Medical Science is a relatively successful center in this field, but it has not fulfilled its goals. The recognition of the factors involved in success and failure of this method is a vital point. The academic as one of the major factors have an outstanding role in this regard. This research was conducted to assess the knowledge and attitude of the academics toward COME.

Methods. This research was descriptive in which all the academic members of Kermanshah University of